

Can electronic appliances disrupt wireless service?

Cordless telephones and other devices that use the 2.4 gigahertz frequency can disrupt wireless internet service. If you are considering purchasing a wireless telephone, please make sure that it uses the 5.8 GHz or 900 GHz frequencies.